Instructions No. 2443

Difficulty: Beginner

Working time: 3 Hours

You can make beautiful flowers out of paper! When the flowers sprout in nature in spring and summer, you immediately feel like making some for your own home. The garland made of tissue paper is easy to make with our instructions and impresses with its beauty.

This is how the fairy lights are made:

Transfer the templates to the different papers. Cut out the flower shape and the circles from tissue paper and the inside of the flower from transparent paper.

For the centre of the flower, cut the tracing paper finely on the side as marked on the template to create fringes. Then roll up the fringed strip.

For each flower, attach two circles of pink tissue paper, one flower of lilac tissue paper and once the "inside of the flower" to the lights of the fairy lights with florist's tape.

For the leaves, attach one leaf each from the mint-coloured tissue paper to a piece of wire with florist's tape.

To turn the wire into a flower stem, completely wrap the fairy lights wire and the pieces of wire with the florist's tape, working the flowers and the leaves into it.
