The combination of fabric bag and macramé is a beautiful symbiosis that you can easily recreate with a little skill. Through the fabric - and yarn selection you give the bag its very individual look. namaken. De keuze van stof en garen geeft de tas een eigen gezicht.

Cutting fabric

Download the pattern and transfer the templates to your selected outer and inner fabric. For the inner and outer pocket, the template must be laid out at the fabric fold, i.e. the fabric must be laid twice!

Cut the fabric pieces and allow 1 cm seam allowance for each.

Sew bag

Place the fabric pieces for the inner and outer pocket right sides together. Use pins to baste the fabric pieces together. Now sew the inside and outside pocket together on the side. For the inside pocket, leave a turnaround opening open on the side. Then sew on the bottoms of each.

Now place the inside pocket right sides together inside the outside bag. Make sure that the open raw edges and the side seams are flush with each other.

Now topstitch once all around the open cut edge. Now turn the bag right side out through the turn opening and close the turn opening by hand.

For a neat result, topstitch the top edge close to the edge so that the seam allowance cannot turn up.

For macramé work you will need: 56 x 1.50 m + 2 x 2.00 m - lark's head knot backwards + square knot

Fascinating macramé knots

Double the 2 m strands for the drawstring or the handles. Now form them into a U and lay them mirrored on top of each other. Then start with the lark's head knot backwards (the 1.50m strands). See the diagram on the pattern.

Now tie 10 rows with the square knot for the pretty macramé area. The distance between the knots here is about 1 cm. Both parts, fabric and macramé are now connected. Glue the last knots to the fabric with craft glue. Glue 28 knots in the front and 28 knots in the back to the bag.

After drying time, it can be sewn down by hand or sewing machine. Now trim the strands that stick out to one length.

Pull the bag together at the top and see if the handles are long enough. If it is, then knot the ends of the strands.

Bag handle optional

If the handle is too short for you, you can braid extra yarn as we did in the picture and tie it to the handles on the bag with the wrap knot.
