Tissue paper flowers

Instructions No. 1756

Difficulty: Beginner

Working time: 30 Minutes

How about a bouquet that never fades? With only our instructions you can create beautiful flowers from . An absolute eye-catcher in your vase! Or you make your loved ones happy by giving away a slightly different bouquet.

Here's how it works:

Bouquet

Cut the Silk paper into strips about 20 cm long x 6 cm wide. Now lay 5-6 strips on top of each other. Now fold this Silk paper into an accordion. The bigger the folded strips are, the bigger the petals will be. Cut a piece of wire and wrap it around the middle of the accordion. The wire should be long enough to act as a flower stalk

Now round the petals with scissors. You can also shape the leaves differently. Unfold the accordion and pull the individual leaves upwards in the middle. Finally wrap the wire with Florist tape. Cut a leaf from small strips of the ribbon and wrap it around the stem.

Pink Flowers with large leaves

Made from yellow Silk paper the pistils are produced. Cut off a piece that is about 7 cm long and 5 cm high. Cut many small incisions from above and wrap the side without the incisions around a bamboo skewer and fix Handicraft glue it with

From the pink Silk paper Cut out 12 individual flowers, stick them through the middle of the bamboo skewer and push them up to the pistil. When all flowers are attached, the skewer is covered with green Florist tape wrapped. The leaves are cut Craft cardboard sheet out of green and also pushed onto the skewer.

Discover even more ideas with Silk paper:

- Idee 1742 - Creative withSilk paper
- Idea 1757 - Fairies fromSilk paper

Article information:

Article number	Article name	Qty
29516	Florist wireGreen	1
601498	Florist tape, green	1
111065	VBS Handicraft glue	1
23913	VBS XXL Cardboard blockBasic	1
610439	VBS Bamboo wood spikes, 50 pieces	1